POPULAR RESORT OPENS ITS SEASON WITH GREATER ATTRACTIVE THAN EVER

Pleasure-loving Washingtonians flock in large numbers to the cool breezes of Colonial Beach. The people of Washington are realizing more and more every year what a delightful resort they have within easy reach of their homes. Colonial Beach embraces all that could be desired for both rest and recreation. It is situated on the banks of the beautiful Potomac River, sixty-six miles from Washington. It is bounded on the East by the Potomac, and on the West by Monroe Bay, having a Bathing Beach of four miles, which combined with the finest fishing, crabbing, and sailing tends to make Colonial Beach one of the most desirable places known. The four-and-a-half-hour sail on the big steamer St. Johns, one of the handsomest steamboats in excursion service in the South, offers a most pleasant way to view the Potomac by daylight. Leaving her wharf here daily at 9 a. m., except Monday and Saturday, the steamer, after a short stop at Alexandria, makes no more stops until she reaches the summer-time Mecca of the people of Washington—Colonial Beach. In addition to the morning trips daily, the St. Johns leaves Washington every Saturday at 2:30 p. m., giving an opportunity to spend Sunday at Colonial Beach.

COLONIAL BEACH NEWS

By M. E. WHITTELL.
Assistant District Attorney James M. Proctor and brother, Robert Proctor, paddled in a canoe from Washington to Colonial Beach, making several stops on the way. They have registered at the Johnson House.

The government motor launch, commanded by Capt. Durston, reached the Beach Monday on her return from a cruise in the Chesapeake Bay. She visited Crisfield, Old Point, and other places. The reserves were given much opportunity for target practice.

Mrs. G. S. Edlen and children, who have been summer residents at the Beach for several seasons, are again at Colonial Beach Hotel.

Misses Annie, Marie, and Vera Swart, Miss Nellie Mowatt and Mr. Spencer Akenbush have registered at the city after a week at Crown Castle.

The town feels very proud of its baseball team, which has scored five successive victories over the "All Stars," La Playa team. White Oak team, Naval Reserves, aboard the Ozark, and The Hague team. The last was fought on Tuesday, and proved the hardest fought of the season, the opposing team being largely composed of college players in a good trim. The score was 15 to 6 in favor of Colonial Beach. Messrs. Matthews and Heftin will be glad to arrange games with strong amateur teams of Washington, and will guarantee transportation charges.

The First Baptist Church of this place gave a lawn party Tuesday evening on the hotel grounds. The ladies of the church who were in charge realized a large sum to be added to the general fund of the church.

Miss Ethel Noble Johnson, a well-known vocalist of Washington, who is summing at the New Waterfront, has given a "Nearer My God to Thee" at the morning service, St. Mary's Episcopal Church. Prof. H. W. Howard accompanying her. Miss Johnson, who is a teacher at the Washington Institute of Music, is a member of several of the most prominent musical societies of the Capital.

The King George House, adjoining the drug store, is one of the best established hotels on the Beach. The bedrooms on the second floor open on a wide covered porch, commanding a splendid view of the river, while the table is unexcelled. Among recent arrivals are Mr. and Mrs. J. Johnson, Mrs. A. Riley, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Davis, Mrs. Corcoran and daughter, Misses Mary, Pauline, and Belle Corcoran; Miss Mollie Ellison, Mr. Charles Keenan, T. Paul Clark, and C. P. Clark.

The Walcott House, Mr. Victor Hecht, manager, continues one of the popular stopping places on the Beach. Because of its many attractions—location, good table, etc., it has been doing a rushing business this season. Among last week's guests were Charles Cooke, W. J. Patterson, E. Smith, T. H. Reed and family, Harry Hagerty, Eugene Wood, H. E. Crawford, Paul J. Severance, J. Parker, F. S. Galt, Miss M. Browning, Stewart Ashton, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Sims, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Pritchard, John C. Copenhagen, Eugene Copenhagen and son, G. Millburn, H. W. Abbie and family, W. Caldwell, F. F. Warren, George R. May, James Fletcher, F. W. Hornbaker, P. P. Cook, William E. Sanders, and Mrs. C. Kidwell and child.
